Change in Life and Parenting

Amy Carney is an engaging, inspiring, and captivating keynote speaker and workshop leader. With warmth and humor, she delivers hard-hitting truth about the problems and challenges of parenting in today's society of excess and privilege.

The mother of six children (22-year-old sons, a 21-year-old daughter, and recently adopted 17 and 12-year-old sons), Amy walks her talk. She's a popular blogger, author and freelance journalist and speaks regularly to parents in Arizona and nationwide. Popular topics include:

- Parenting on Purpose in 2024 and Beyond: How to courageously raise children into confident, capable and compassionate adults in the complicated world in which we live.
- Parenting on Purpose in the Home Stretch: Why teens need more space to struggle, strengthen and serve others.
- Setting up Your Family for Screentime Success: Tackling the battlefield of social media and tech use.

"Amy Carney's delivery and humor were a welcome start to our busy day. The one word we heard reverberate throughout the morning was "real". A "real" Mom with "real" stories about "real" kids. Best of all, Amy had "real" answers to whatever questions we gave her. Our goal is to grow this new partnership and bring her back again."

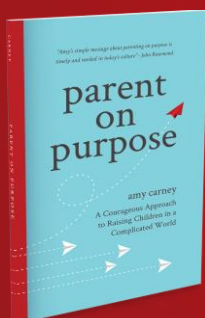

- Kevin Sieling,
Scottsdale Christian Academy

"Amy Carney inspired our National Charity League Chapter of 350 women. We highly recommend Amy as her message was terrific for all in the room and relatable through the many personal examples of how she and her family actively give. What a gem to have this fire inside of her and to share how we can all give more of ourselves to touch the lives of others."

- Hillary Mackowski, Sonoran
Centennial National Charity League

"Wow! I have to thank you for exceeding our expectations, Amy! We have 200 moms of young children who were inspired and motivated by your talk today!! Your skill of weaving the challenge of parenting on purpose with stories from your own family which illustrate your points made the time fly by! Your prepared material was excellent, but what we enjoyed even more was the Q & A session because you truly understand and live what you are trying to convey."

- Tracy Goble,
Moms Scottsdale Bible Church
